

GEO 201: Human Geography

A conceptual approach to the study of humans, their distribution, economic systems, behavior patterns, value systems and environmental perceptions, with emphasis given to the resulting patterns of cultural landscapes that characterize the earth.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 0

Lecture Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

GEO 100

Program: Geography