

PSY 210: Human Growth and Development

This course is the study of the psychological, social, and physical factors that affect human behavior from conception to death. +Availability of this course is dependent upon sufficient demand. See master schedule of classes or advisor for further information.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 0

Lecture Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

PSY 200.

Program: Psychology